University Budget Tops $29 Million

The university's record-setting budget of $29,061,000 for 1985-86, a 16 percent increase over the prior year, will provide an increased level of support for faculty professional activities, educational quality, off-campus programs, enhancement of campus life and improvements in general support.

Eighty-three percent of the budget is devoted to personnel, 16 percent to operating expenses and 1 percent for equipment, an analysis by Don McKenzie, director of budget planning and administration, reveals. The academic affairs division, including faculty and their support staff, captured 63 percent of the allocation for personnel. Included in the new budget are 23.5 new faculty and 8.5 additional staff positions.

Increased funding for faculty professional activities included a 35 percent increase in support for academic travel (to $68,000) to allow more faculty members to attend professional meetings, doubling of the faculty professional development fund (to $20,000), creation of a $26,000 account for matching grants received by faculty, $4000 for reinstatement of the Institute for Social and Public Policy and $3000 for a new community arts project.

Responding to the university's goal of enhancing educational quality, the budget committee approved $33,700 for development of the upper-division computer science program and $14,000 for an undergraduate advising and academic counseling center. Other new items included funding for implementing a B.S. degree in nutrition, for encouraging cross-cultural perspectives in curriculum development, for new archeology equipment and increased library automation.

A major new allocation was the $135,000 to purchase equipment for the Instructional Fixed Television Service (ITFS), which will allow the university faculty to "teach," via television, students in outlying communities in the Coachella Valley. Four additional positions will be provided to help staff the off-campus program.

To enhance campus life, the budget provides $31,100 for special events, $9000 for additional intercollegiate athletic programs, $5900 for student orientation and $1500 for pep band equipment.

Funding for the advanced registration system for students represented a new item for $69,200. Evening students and faculty will benefit primarily from the $40,000 reserved to improve campus lighting, while faculty and staff who travel in state cars will find five new cars replacing the fleet of old, rental autos. With a new training officer in the Personnel Office, the budget allocated $4000 for training and professional opportunities for staff.

Utilities during the coming year are expected to claim $981,000 of the total budget. Purchase of library books and periodicals represents an expenditure of $724,000, while computer rental and maintenance takes $366,000. Funding designated by the state for student grants totals $406,000. Another $59,000 is allocated for access and retention of underrepresented minority students.

The cost of utilities is one-fifth of the $4.8 million budget for operating the campus. Supplies and services take another 20 percent, library books are 15 percent and telephone service needs 9 percent.

Before new programs are approved for funding, the requesting departments must present their cases to the University Planning Advisory Council (UPAC), which prioritizes the requests in terms of meeting the university's goals and mission. The Budget Review Committee then approves the final allocations of funds.

Coyote Sports Action Noted

The soccer team is in the midst of a four-game schedule at home while the volleyball and cross country teams are preparing for matches on their competitor's turf.

The soccer team is 2-5 for the season after its win over Whittier College Wednesday afternoon. The soccer team posted its first win of the season last weekend by beating California Baptist College 10-0. The team was defeated 3-0 Monday at UC, San Diego. The Coyotes host Point Loma College this afternoon, Christ College tomorrow morning and Fresno Pacific, Wednesday, Oct. 9.

Women's volleyball is registering a 6-4 season with a win over Claremont-McKenna Tuesday night. The Coyotes notched the victory with scores of 15-17, 15-13, 15-13, 10-15 and 15-9. They placed fourth in the 10-team Claremont Tournament last weekend by defeating Redlands and Mills College while losing to Pomona-Pitzer. The team will rest-up this weekend in preparation for two away games at California Baptist College Tuesday, Oct. 8 and Southern California College, Thursday, Oct. 10.

The cross country teams are warming up for the Cal State, Bakersfield Invitational tomorrow after the women finished in fourth place and the men placed eighth in the Westmont Invitational last weekend.

"Bakersfield's race will be a six-mile run for the men and a 3.1-mile race for the women," said Coach Tom Burleson. "It will be a flat course and the competition will be our toughest test yet so I'm really looking for some improved times from our runners."

Faculty And Staff Invited To Play Volleyball Next Week

If volleyball is your game, then the Cal State gym is the place to be at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8 and Thursday, Oct. 10 when Recreational Sports presents the Ford Volleyball Classic.

"We've been holding the tournament for students for the past two years," said Joe Long, director of intramural sports. "This year we decided to hold it for faculty and staff only, and we're hoping departments will put together teams to challenge each other in the competition."

Co-ed teams will be assembled based on turn-out, Long said, and everyone who plays will receive a free volleyball shirt. More information is available from Joe Long at Ext. 7564.

Bennecke Joins Mayor's Staff

Richard Bennecke, who has been employed at the university since his graduation here in 1967, has resigned to join the staff of San Bernardino's new mayor, Evelyn Wilcox.

The first student body president and a member of the first graduating class, Bennecke had served in a variety of positions, primarily in the Student Services area. He had been a student activities advisor, the first director of the Student Union, director of alumni affairs and a financial aid advisor. Bennecke, who once ran for mayor himself, will be assisting the mayor with office management and community relations projects.

The California State University, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published by the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, Ext. 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.

campus. As in the past, when dialing an extension from an on-campus phone, it is not necessary to use the preceding three digits. However, when transferring an incoming, off-campus call to another extension, alert the caller to the correct three-digit prefix for that particular extension.

The university telephone system has added a 7900 series of extensions which must be preceded by 880 when calling from off campus. All other telephone numbers for the university are preceded by 887, when dialed from off campus.

Library Receives Trial Computerized Reference System

(past 60 days). Provided by Information Access Company, the two-station system allows two users to search the database simultaneously and receive printed copies of the search results. The videodisc database is updated monthly.

The Library has received a 60-day free trial of InfoTrac, an automated reference database system which has access to information from 1000 periodicals (from 1982 to the present) and two newspapers

There will be no charge for the use of InfoTrac during the trial period though patrons will be asked to complete a survey questionnaire evaluating the system, said John Tibbals, head of patron services. Library staff members are available to help first-time users, but the system is designed for use by untrained patrons and is reportedly very "user-friendly," he said.

More information is available by calling the Reference Desk at Ext. 7335 or Pola Patterson, head of automation services, at Ext. 7601.

Cal State Associates To Host Newcomers

New faculty and staff who have joined the university this fall will be guests of the Cal State Associates at a family picnic Sunday afternoon, Oct. 13 on campus.

Members of the Associates are to make reservations with Pam Dortch (Children's Center), chairman for the event, by Monday, Oct. 7. Newcomers who are able to attend should phone their reservation to Ms. Dortch or to Edna Steinman (Public Affairs), Associates president, at Ext. 7558.

The play yard of the Children's Center will be open for the youngsters during the picnic, which begins at 3:30 p.m. on the lawn near the center. Doyle Stansel (Student Life) will be chef for the occasion, repeating the skill he acquired at the all-campus picnic last spring.

Cal State Kicks Off Civic Education Project

Cal State is initiating the Civic Education Enhancement Project in a workshop, directed by Dr. Gordon Stanton (Education), which is designed to stimulate social science and teacher education faculty to broaden and upgrade the civic education of future teachers while they are students in the CSU system.

Developed by Dr. Stanton, the project is being introduced to faculty from nine CSU campuses in a two-day workshop in Los Angeles, which concludes today. Attending from Cal State are: Dr. Adria Klein (Teacher Education), Dr. Phyllis Maxey (Teacher Education), Dr. Ward McAfee (History) and Mike Rodriguez (Political Science). Dr. Alvin Wolf (Education) and Dr. Edward Erler (Political Science) are serving as consultants for the workshop and Carol Galvan (secretary) and Diane Valencia (graduate assistant) represent the project staff.

The workshop is designed to spark other meetings and conferences at the individual campuses to acquaint more faculty members with the principles of law-related education instruction methods.

The CSU campuses involved in the first year of the project are: Bakersfield, Chico, Fresno, Hayward, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Bernardino and San Jose. The other 10 CSU campuses will be initiated next year.

CSU Trustees Adopt New Teacher Standards

For the first time in 20 years, CSU trustees adopted tough new standards, which will go into effect next year, for anyone seeking to become a public school teacher.

Students will have to be in the top half of their class to enter a teacher education program, and later, to be recommended for a state teaching credential. They also will be required to demonstrate teaching skills in addition to subject matter competency.

The 19 CSU campuses turn out more than 6,000 credentialed teachers each year, more than half the state's total output. The newly adopted standards are considered minimum for the system, and campuses are encouraged to add to them.

"We must raise standards to attract able students into teacher preparation," said Chancellor Reynolds, "and we will retain them only if our program is challenging and rigorous." Success will come, she added, when teachers return to the university to thank their professors for making them work hard because they see the relationship between their success as teachers and their preparation on campus.

Congratulations

The university community extends congratulations to Debra Lynn Brecher (Academic Affairs) and her husband, Michael Dewey, on the birth of their first child Sept. 26. Noah Michael Brecher Dewey weighed 8 pounds, 6 ounces and measured 21 inches.

The university community extends congratulations to Randy Keller (Public Safety) and his wife, Lisa, on the birth of Randall Kenneth Sept. 30. The baby weighed 9 pounds, 2 ounces.

The university extends congratulations to Scott Tuttle (Public Safety) and his wife, Sandy, on the birth Sept. 8 of Logan Andrew, who weighed 6 pounds.
